REBELS RAID HAVANA BAN AND ESCAPE

By LARRY ALLEN
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuban rebels made a daring raid on the National Bank of Cuba in the heart of Havana today, tied up the bank's employees and set fire to thousands of checks. They made no effort to scoop up the bank's cash.

Half a dozen men mingled with about a score of employees and businessmen entering the bank at its 8 a. m. opening. Once inside, they brandished pistols and entered the bank's check clearing room where they herded the employees into a room, tied them up and proceeded to set fire to pouches containing the checks.

The rebels then fled. Police noticed smoke pouring out and called firemen. The blaze was quickly extinguished. One report said most of the checks were destroyed. The bank said there was no damage to the premises.

The raid followed the bold kidnapping of the world champion auto racer, Argentina's Juan Fangio, last Sunday on the eve of the running of Cuba's Gran Premio race in Havana. Fangio was turned loose after the race had ended in tragedy on an oil-slicked course.

Nine men were reported killed today in mysterious shootings, bombings and sabotage incidents in Oriente province where the rebel leader, Fidel Castro, has been conducting guerrilla war against the regime of President Fulgencio Batista for more than a year.

Rebel bombings wrecked a bridge and aqueduct in the Santiago de Cuba area, and two buses, a small yacht and restaurant were burned.

A sugar cane field was burned in the western province of Pinar del Rio. Two buses were burned in Havana.

Kidnaping of Fangio convinced many Cubans that President Batista is virtually powerless to check Castro's hit-and-run tactics.

Patrolman Aided By Teacher In Taking Fugitive

Pittsburgh (AP)—A high school teacher and a patrolman from suburban Ross Twp. joined today in capturing a man who had been the object of a widespread search after a bullet shattered chase.

Police identified the man as William Truman, 25, of Pittsburgh's Homewood section. They said he was a drug addict and charged he stole two cars. He was not shot.

Officers told this story: The man was stopped by police in suburban West View last night during a routine check. He stopped his auto momentarily, then picked up speed with the patrolmen in pursuit. They shot out both rear tires but he escaped when the police car skidded. His auto was found abandoned.

Thirty minutes later the fugitive was spotted in another stolen car. He smashed into a parked auto, then fled into some woods.

Man Who Made 'Flight' Into Space Found to be a Father

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—Airman Donald Farrell, who made man's first "flight" into space, once was married and has a 4-year-old daughter, a Troy woman maintains.

Mrs. Norma J. Luraas, wife of a state trooper, said that she had sent a letter to the New York Daily News telling of her marriage to the 23-year-old Farrell, who spent seven days recently in a simulated rocket ship as part of an Air Force experiment.

The News said Farrell had admitted the marriage.

Pleasant Township Solves Road Problem

Committee Being Set Up to Help Push Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Citizens for Foreign Aid movement took root today, launched with an impassioned plea by President Eisenhower to combat opponents who say "billions for armament, but not one cent for peace."

Movie czar Eric Johnston undertook the task of setting up a permanent nongovernmental committee. The group, with headquarters in Washington, will seek to build public support for military and economic aid programs abroad.

Its immediate objective is to win congressional passage of the administration's 3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The movement is a direct outgrowth of a conference yesterday, arranged by Johnston at Eisenhower's behest, of leading citizens.

Eisenhower addressed a dinner attended by 2,000 persons last night, climaxing a daylong parade of leaders from politics, industry, labor, entertainment, education and just about every other walk of life.

An unusual spirit of bipartisanship marked the gathering, at which Eisenhower and former President Truman both spoke, eight hours apart.

The unprecedented political truce was emphasized when Eisenhower posed humbly for pictures with such Democratic luminaries as Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas, as well as Adlai E. Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent in 1952 and 1956.

BUFFALO ROBBERIES

BUFFALO (AP)—Buffalo police today are looking for two unidentified Negro men who they say bludgeoned a man and two elderly women in separate robbery assaults in an east side neighborhood last night.

Police said the attackers rifled one woman's purse of about three dollars but, apparently frightened away, did not rob the others.

None of the victims was reported seriously injured.

Moderate Rains May Pose Threat of Flood

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service warned today that indications for "moderate to heavy rain poses a definite threat of flooding for all small streams in the Susquehanna and Delaware areas."

"Some preliminary preparation for flooding along the smaller streams should be taken," a bulletin from the service said. "It is not possible at this time to know if amounts will be heavy enough to produce flooding of major tributaries."

The service advised all interests concerned to keep in touch "for specific flood forecasts that will be issued if heavy rains fall in their areas of interest."

House Probers Check Further Into FCC Case

Washington, (AP)—House probers, amid increasing talk of law violations, take another look today at the complex financial transactions involving Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the special House subcommittee conducting the probe said Mack and others involved in the bitter fight over Miami's Channel 10 TV license appear to have violated the law and opened themselves to prosecution.

Miami Atty. Thurman A. Whiteside, against whom some of Harris' statements were directed, denied that he had violated any law.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Rogers, at a news conference, described as "not correct" a report that the Justice Department has taken steps looking toward Mack's possible removal.

"That is not our function," he said. "Prosecutions are a matter for the department to decide. Removals are matters for the President to decide."

Rogers said an FBI investigation of the case is not yet completed, and he declined to speculate on any possible moves toward prosecution.

Rogers ordered the FBI probe last week after the subcommittee (Turn to Page Twelve)

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

"Guess what I found in the Times-Mirror Want Ads — to help speed up those little jobs I want done around the house!"

This morning, when Pleasant township students went to school, things were a little different—they had to walk part way. Due to bad road conditions, buses picked pupils up at their appointed places but on arriving at the location shown in the picture above, the kids got out and walked across the dangerous stretch.

They were escorted by two members of the PTA. Safety committee, Mrs. Robert Johnson of 189 Pleasant Drive, who has two children, and Mrs. Gerald Ruhlman, 90 Pleasant Drive, who has one. The two bus drivers, Leonard Ekey and Paul Egger, had to take their chances which goes to prove that the life of a bus driver isn't exactly peaches and cream.

There was a bright side this morning, when two workmen from the state appeared and began filling in the bad spots and making a substitute passageway, until a more substantial and permanent road can be built. Parents in Pleasant Township have been instrumental in securing attention to the road which, for the distance of about half a city block, has eroded to the point where guard rails have fallen away, and in case of slippery conditions, there was no protection from rolling over the bank into the icy waters of the river. Furthermore, there was no guarantee that the road itself wasn't weakened by the mountainous snows of the past few weeks.

Mrs. Johnson said today, that members of the Safety committee would continue to escort their children across the place in question, as long as it was deemed necessary. The picture shows part of the 100 students crossing the road directly in front of the Boyd Zinger residence—Timesphoto by Saylor.

Ice on River Helps Police Theft Inquiry

TARENTUM, Pa., (AP)—State police said today that thick ice on the Allegheny river helped them recover parts of a stolen auto that led to the arrest of two men from nearby Fawn Twp.

Officers at the New Kensington barracks said Robert A. Norris, 23, and Thomas D. Myers, 24, stole a new 1958 auto from the Kelly Auto agency lot in Butler on Jan. 26 and used the motor, front end assembly, grill, and one fender to repair Myers' wrecked car.

Last Sunday night, police said, the pair took the hood, roof, doors and gasoline tank of the new car to the Tarentum bridge and tossed them into the Allegheny river.

Instead of sinking to the river bottom, police said, the parts remained on the frozen surface where they were spotted later.

"If the river hadn't been frozen over," said Cpl. Paul O'Mara, "the parts of the car would have sunk to the bottom and might never have been discovered."

Police said they took Norris and Myers into custody yesterday after receiving a tip.

POLICY IN ARAB STATE IS ATTACKED

By DAVID MASON
PARIS (AP)—A sweeping attack by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau on America's policy in the Arab world was seen today as additional evidence that France will not be pushed into any U. S.-engineered compromise with Tunisia.

Pineau's blast was one more indication of the difficulties facing U. S. diplomat Robert Murphy and a British colleague named by their governments to exert good offices to bring France and her former North African protectorate back together.

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba said in Tunis after his first conference with Murphy that any French-Tunisian settlement must take the Algerian rebellion into account. The French already have said the only Algerian angle they will discuss is how to cut off Tunisian aid to the rebels.

The French Parliament's upper house, after hearing Pineau's attack on U. S. actions, voted 271-14 for a resolution that "resumption of normal relations with Tunisia should have nothing to do with the Algerian situation." The Communists were the only opponents.

Murphy said in Tunis he and Bourguiba had discussed all problems and made a step forward. He did not elaborate.

Pineau's attack only restated what the French press has said publicly and French officials have said privately many months. But it was the sharpest blast at the U. S. government from a top French official in a long time.

Any such frankness from Secretary of State Dulles about French policy would produce immediate and widespread demands for France's withdrawal from NATO.

There was no immediate protest from U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton against Pineau's speech. The embassy pointed out that any initiative would have to come from Washington.

Navy Still Busy On Difficulties On the Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy has remedied a propellant shortage that helped delay a test launching of the Vanguard satellite rocket.

Other difficulties — minor electrical troubles and balky valves and other plumbing that also served to prevent a launching planned for early this week — have not yet been eliminated.

The Navy still hopes to launch the Vanguard before the weekend, thus leaving the way clear for the Army to attempt to send a second Explorer satellite—into the nose of a Jupiter-C rocket—into an orbit next week.

The propellant in short supply—one of the seven propellants used in the three-stage Vanguard—was propane.

The gas is used for the auxiliary jets that control the second stage of the Vanguard when it is coasting, at a speed of 9,000 miles an hour, after its engine burns out 140 miles above the earth.

The Air Force checked its data for explanations as to the loss of the last of the Navaho ramjet intercontinental missiles on its testing program.

The Navaho was destroyed by a range safety officer less than a minute after its launching shortly after noon yesterday.

SHOT IN POLICE CHASE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Clyde Cook Jr., 20, was shot in the hand during a police chase early today. Cook was charged with auto theft and several traffic violations. The chase began after Cook was stopped in suburban Elliott for speeding.

Officers said Cook sped away. Six patrol cars from the Pittsburgh police department aided police of several communities in halting Cook. He was shot and captured after fleeing his car which crashed into a tree in Elliott.

Tunisia Insists Algeria Rebellion Be Considered

TUNIS (AP)—Tunisia remained adamantly opposed today to any settlement of its dispute with France that fails to consider the next-door rebellion in Algeria.

As British and American conciliators sought to solve the dispute, however, France still refused to discuss the rebellion, which Paris insists is an internal matter.

Algeria "is the key to the whole problem," Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba said after meeting yesterday with Robert Murphy, U. S. diplomat negotiating to bring France and her former North African protectorate back together.

Murphy said they had discussed "all problems" and "have made a step forward." He did not elaborate.

In Paris, Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said U. S. policy on North Africa has been a failure, especially the delivery last year of a small supply of arms to Tunisia.

In the sharpest official French attack on U. S. policy in years, Pineau charged the United States with three other failures or false moves in the Middle East in the last two years. He said the French government had advised against each as being harmful to Western interests.

Pineau's speech to the Council of the Republic Senate largely repeated French thinking that has been expressed before in all but official form. It was not expected in Paris to provoke a serious break with Washington. But the tenor of Pineau's remarks indicated the growing French irritation that the United States has not backed France solidly in its North African troubles.

Overhaul of Pa. Parole System Recommended

HARRISBURG (AP)—A penal expert has recommended an overhaul of Pennsylvania parole and probation procedure, claiming the state has too many lawbreakers in institutions and too few on probation.

The remarks were made yesterday at a meeting of the local Pennsylvania Citizens Association by Milton G. Rector, assistant director of the National Probation and Parole Assn., New York City.

Rector told the meeting that a good probation system will, for instance, supervise a youngster for about $200 a year, whereas it costs about $2,200 a year to maintain him in an institution.

The group also received a report from Rector on a six-month study made by him and his staff of probation conditions in the state's 67 counties.

"Price War" on Appliances Follows Decision by G. E.

NEW YORK (AP)—A price war on small electric appliances erupted in the Metropolitan New York area today after General Electric Co. scrapped its "fair trade" program.

Leading retailers slashed prices of GE toasters, steam irons, clocks, fry pans and other small appliances by about 30 per cent in the morning hours.

Some indicated they'd be selling GE appliances at 40 per cent below the fair trade price by nightfall.

TO IGNORE DEMAND FOR RESIGNATION

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, defying Midwestern Republican demands that he fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson, praised Benson today as a man of courage and honesty.

The President told a news conference that people advocating that Benson be ousted are badly mistaken in taking that position.

Eisenhower left no doubt he intends to ignore demands for Benson's resignation.

Some Midwestern Republicans in Congress, sharply critical of Benson farm policies, have contended that continuing him in office would cost the party 25 to 30 congressional seats in the November elections.

This was Eisenhower's first news conference in three weeks—and his third since last Oct. 30. He dealt also with these other matters:

RECESSION — Eisenhower repeated that a tax cut is of course a possibility if there is any deepening of the depression. He used that word, also the word recession.

But Eisenhower again expressed confidence that unemployment will begin to diminish. He added that if it does so next month, that would mark the beginning of the end of the recession.

Eisenhower also said authorizing a go-ahead on reclamation projects would serve as an anti-recession measure, but he added he doubts such projects would do a great deal to provide jobs.

On a related point, Eisenhower expressed interest in the proposal of a Patterson, N. J. newspaper publisher that an antirecession "Believe in America" campaign be launched.

The publisher, Harry B. Haines, of the Patterson Evening News, wrote in an editorial that the nation is in the "throes of a psychosomatic business slump."

Eisenhower said he is not sure whether the type of campaign Haines suggested is in order. But Eisenhower added that confidence in America is (Turn to Page Twelve)

800 Applicants Of Real Estate Brokers Held Up

Harrisburg, (AP)—The status of 880 applicants for licenses as real estate brokers or salesmen was left up in the air today because of a double-pronged legal problem facing the State Real Estate Commission.

Dr. Harold Alderfer, deputy superintendent of public instruction in charge of professional licensing, said the group took an examination Feb. 8 without prior screening by the commission of their qualifications.

The real estate licensing law requires this screening, he told a newsman, but the same law makes it mandatory that the examination be held on the second Saturday in February.

"We had monumental problems on this question and we are preparing a detailed report on it," he said. "As far as I can see, nobody will be harmed."

The group also received a report from Rector on a six-month study made by him and his staff of probation conditions in the state's 67 counties.

Plan to Stiffen School Curriculum Offered Council

Dem Leaders in Closed-Door State-Making Huddle Today

Grand Jury Frees Kane Resident on Auto Death Charge

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today called on the State council of Education to back a four-point program to stiffen school curriculum developed at his January conference on improvement of school instruction.

The council meets in Harrisburg tomorrow to study proposals of the January conference.

Leader's proposals would:

1. Require a minimum three years of English, one year of science, one year of mathematics and three years of social studies for senior high school students.

2. Require teaching of science to all pupils beginning in elementary grades and continuing through ninth grade.

3. Establish special reading classes in the seventh and eighth grades.

4. Accelerate studies of able junior high school students.

BY LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—It was anybody's guess as to who might receive Democratic organization support for governor today.

Party leaders planned a closed-door slatemaking session with rumors flying like sparks off a grindstone. And there was no assurance that an agreement would be reached.

There wasn't even assurance that the meeting itself would be held. The Harrisburg Patriot reported persistent rumors the meeting would be postponed indefinitely. But the governor's office said it "expected" that the meeting would go on as planned.

Gov. Leader was reportedly reconsideration "Leader said in a statement, adding:

ceptive to a plan to draft Richardson Dilworth for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination despite the Philadelphia Mayor's previous announcement that he won't run.

Four top Pennsylvania labor leaders submitted the "Draft-Dilworth" proposal to the governor yesterday in what was described as a bold action in behalf of the candidacy of Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride.

The labor group was quoted by a prominent Democrat, who asked not to be identified, as telling the governor that James W. Knox, Allegheny County controller, was unacceptable to them.

The Democratic spokesman said the labor leaders were agreeable to the McBride candidacy should the Dilworth draft fail.

U. S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman, has opposed Dilworth as a candidate for governor and there was a question as to whether his opposition also extended to McBride.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, who played an important role in slating Leader for governor four years ago, has been reported backing Knox for governor despite labor's opposition.

SMETHPORT—A no true bill was found by the grand jury here in charge of involuntary manslaughter filed against Alfred W. Kennedy, 23, of Kane.

The case was an outgrowth of the death of Kevin Carter, 23, of Kane as the result of an auto accident near Bradford last Nov. 19. Kennedy, the alleged driver of the car of which Carter was the owner and occupant.

This was the only case to come before the grand jury at the February term of Criminal Court in McKean county.

A jury trial started on Tuesday in the court with Clarence R. Yale of Bradford and his son, Clarence J., as defendants. The father and son are charged with cheating by fraudulent pretenses arising out of alleged fraudulent automobile sales.

One more case is expected to be tried at this term of court. Ralph Commisso, of Eldred will be tried following the Yale case. Commisso is charged with resisting arrest. He was found guilty at the last term of court, but a petition for mistrial was granted as the result of jurors changing their mind after rendering a verdict to the court.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (U)—In "Moment of Truth" we have finally seen a television drama that had something to say, that said it without overindulgence, and that brought together a superlative cast in an fascinating production.

The drama, written and staged by Peter Ustinov on Omnibus (NBC-TV), also starred Ustinov as a senile, once great general of an unnamed nation who became the unwitting figurehead of his nation's conquering enemy. As that tragic marshal, Ustinov gave as compelling a performance as he did in "The Life of Samuel Johnson" on Omnibus a few weeks ago.

No one who saw "Moment of Truth" could fail to compare the basic situation of the play to that of Marshal Petain in the defeat and liberation of France in World War II. Neither could one ignore the shadow of Shakespeare's "King Lear."

But Ustinov was not writing an historical drama. To me his theme basically concerned power and the ironies involved in its fleeting transience. It's a theme that has created some fine dramas ever since Shakespeare first used it. With precision, and without diffusion, the drama said to me in effect: "If you are great and powerful, beware of outliving your greatness and power lest your enemies become your friends and your friends your enemies; for the desire for power destroys all in the end."

The theme enabled the small screen of television to become a broad field for tragedy and humor, for irony and passion. You need not have viewed "Moment of Truth" as pedantically as I perhaps am discussing it here to have enjoyed it thoroughly. Its characterizations of and comments on people and politics were memorable.

As the worldly-wise Prime Minister, Jason Roberts Jr. gave an outstanding performance. Rosemary Harris was splendid as the Marshal's daughter, Ustinov did not simply write a vehicle for himself; each member of the cast vied for one's attention: Fritz Weaver as the Photographer; Nancy Wickwire as the Marshal's nurse; David King-Wood as the General; Karel Stepanek as the Victor; and Wood Romoff as the Foreign Minister.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Cosmetic surgery today has become a booming branch of medicine—and three out of four patients are women.

"That is because women in our culture are expected to be beautiful," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, a specialist in the field, "whereas men are expected only to be talented and good providers."

Dr. Franklyn estimated there are 250,000 plastic (or cosmetic) surgery operations a year in the United States. He breaks them down as follows:

Nose operations—70 per cent.
Face lifting—15 per cent.
Breast operations—10 per cent.
Others—5 per cent.

But the amazing development to Dr. Franklyn is the "bust boom" created by women who now look to surgeons to provide them with the fuller bosom nature denied them.

"In another few years, if our present bosom culture continues," he remarked, "breast operations will make up 50 per cent of all cosmetic surgery."

"Formerly, the objective in this type of operation was a reduction in the size of the bosom. Now 99 per cent of the women want a larger bosom."

"This comes about because of a change in beauty goals. The old skinny, flat silhouette of the high-fashion model is out. The goal of womanly beauty today is a round, curvy, healthy look."

Cosmetic surgery has been immensely speeded in the last decade.

"A woman can now get a new breast in 15 minutes," said Dr. Franklyn, "a new nose in 10 minutes, or a face lift in 30 minutes. These no longer are hospital operations. They are beauty parlor surgery."

The doctor, husband of actress Vanessa Brown, has operated on many film stars, but this type of surgery today is gone in for by the masses.

"The typical female now is a 24-year-old housewife who is flat chested and has some marital difficulties," he said. "She feels that if she had a fuller bosom she could win back her husband—and it often does. She feels more adequate. Often these things are mainly psychological."

"We have found, for example, that salesmen averaged $1,300 a year more the year after facial surgery to correct some physical defect—bags under the eyes, protruding ears, receding chins—that impaired their self-confidence."

Although Dr. Franklyn advocates cosmetic surgery for the correction of major physical defects, he is annoyed by those who seek it out of minor vanity.

"Some girls want an operation merely to give them dimples," he complained, "and now and then a man shows up asking if, please, can he have a cleft in his chin like Cary Grant."

"But I don't believe in gold-plating a life!"

A heart was led from dummy and the ten finessed. A spade was led and dummy's eight finessed. The king of spades was cashed and Ira returned to his hand with the king of hearts.

He laid down the ace of spades and led a heart to dummy's ace. The queen dropped and Ira was able to get rid of his diamond on the last heart.

Sylvania Changes Title of Delaware Troops to Mend Its Radio and TV Division Fences Damaged in Rescue

BATAVIA, N. Y.—Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has announced a change in the title of its Radio and Television Division "to describe more effectively the division's present activities and to allow for future expansion into other product lines."

Marion E. Pettegrew, senior vice president of the company, said the division henceforth will be known as Sylvania Home Electronics, a division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. Mr. Pettegrew will continue to have overall responsibility for the division.

The division, with headquarters here, currently manufactures and markets a full line of black and white and color television sets; home and portable radios; high fidelity phonograph instruments, and tape recorders.

Mr. Pettegrew said the change was made in line with Sylvania's recently announced increased emphasis on its long-established policy of decentralization of managerial authority and accountability.

Reviewing 1957, the Sylvania executive said the division "firmly strengthened its distribution system in established product lines and is in an ideal position to take advantage of the opportunities in related product fields made possible by the increased use of electronic products in the home."

He said 1957 was the division's "greatest sales year to date," with television unit sales nearly double 1956. The division will continue to place its major effort in the television field and anticipates bettering its 1957 sales record by 15 per cent, Mr. Pettegrew stated.

Sylvania's high fidelity phonograph effort in 1958, he stated, should result in sales "two and one-half times greater than any previous calendar year." Mr. Pettegrew reported that $250,000 has already been earmarked for radio tooling in 1958, much of it for transistorized models.

The Sylvania official described the division's manufacturing facilities as "among the finest and most modern in the electronics industry, combining the best features of automatic, semi-automatic, and hand assembly methods."

Tennessee Trooper Sets Too Fast a Pace

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—Mrs. Fay Gardner said a state trooper driving Lord Hailsham, head of Britain's Conservative party, in Gov. Frank Clement's car stopped her and lectured her for speeding.

But she said she was only keeping up with the trooper, who was setting a 60 m.p.h. pace through 30 and 40 m.p.h. speed zones.

"He doesn't have any right to drive any faster than I do," said Mrs. Gardner.

The trooper, who did not give Mrs. Gardner a ticket, said he stopped her "to keep her from killing herself."

WILMINGTON, Del. (U)—Delaware National Guardsmen are going to mend those fences their tanks knocked over during a snowstorm rescue—but they're not happy about it.

A squabble developed between Maryland and Delaware after four 24-ton tanks were used by the Delaware troops to rescue some Wilmington Girl Scouts marooned by a storm at Grove Point, Md., 12 miles southwest of Cecil, last Tuesday night.

Four residents in the area complained the guardsmen had driven cross country rather than follow roadways, knocking down their fences.

Some interstate rancor developed with the guardsmen charging pettiness.

But Scannell ordered guard units to return and mend the fences.

How many fences?
"Several," said the general. "Maybe about $24 in damages."

Oklahoma Woman Finds Gold Glowing in Garden

COLBERT, Okla. (U)—Bryan County Sheriff Roney Arnold said an elderly Negro woman found an undetermined amount of cash in her garden and mailed it to Cleveland for a relative to exchange for currency in good condition.

He said Mrs. Nancy Giles, 79, told him she unearthed an iron box containing the money last August and mailed it to her daughter-in-law, Osie Johnson in September.

Mrs. Johnson told federal authorities in Cleveland when she turned in the money Tuesday that she delayed exchanging it so long because she had been ill.

Arnold said Mrs. Giles, who alone in her four-room home here, told him she didn't count the money because it was so rotten. Postal authorities in Cleveland said it was good enough, however, for exchange.

Services will be held at Garland Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Willing Workers will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams March 13.

Plan to Stiffen School Curriculum Offered Council

HARRISBURG (U-P) Gov. Leader today called on the State council of Education to back a four point program to stiffen school curriculum developed at his January conference on improvement of school instruction.

The council meets in Harrisburg tomorrow to study proposals of the January conference.

Leader's proposals would:

1. Require a minimum three years of English, one year of science; one year of mathematics and three years of social studies for senior high school students.

2. Require teaching of science to all pupils beginning in elementary grades and continuing through ninth grade.

3. Establish special reading classes in the seventh and eighth grades.

4. Accelerate studies of able junior high school students.

"I hope that the council will give these proposals the utmost con-

Dem Leaders in Closed-Door State-Making Huddle Today

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (U-P) It was anybody's guess as to who might receive Democratic organization support for governor today.

Party leaders planned a closed-door slatemaking session with rumors flying like sparks off a grindstone. And there was no assurance that an agreement would be reached.

There wasn't even assurance that the meeting itself would be held. The Harrisburg Patriot reported persistent rumors the meeting would be postponed indefinitely. But the governor's office said it "expected" that the meeting would go on as planned.

Gov. Leader was reportedly re-sidation. Leader said in a statement, adding: "For these changes are the result of demands by top educators and laymen across the state that our schools place more emphasis on the fundamentals of learning—of language, science, mathematics and history."

ceptive to a plan to draft Richardson Dilworth for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination despite the Philadelphia Mayor's previous announcement that he won't run.

Four top Pennsylvania labor leaders submitted the "Draft-Dilworth" proposal to the governor yesterday in what was described as a hold action in behalf of the candidacy of Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride.

The labor group was quoted by a prominent Democrat, who asked not to be identified, as telling the governor that James W. Knox, Allegheny County controller, was unacceptable to them.

The Democratic spokesman said the labor leaders were agreeable to the McBride candidacy should the Dilworth draft fail.

U. S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman, has opposed Dilworth as a candidate for governor and there was a question as to whether his opposition also extended to McBride.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, who played an important role in slating Leader for governor four years ago, has been reported backing Knox for governor despite labor's opposition.

Grand Jury Frees Kane Resident on Auto Death Charge

SMETHPORT—A no true bill was found by the grand jury here in charge of involuntary manslaughter filed against Alfred W. Kennedy, 23, of Kane.

The case was an outgrowth of the death of Kevin Carter, 23, of Kane as the result of an auto accident near Bradford last Nov. 19. Kennedy, the alleged driver of the car of which Carter was the owner and occupant.

This was the only case to come before the grand jury at the February term of Criminal Court in McKean county.

A jury trial started on Tuesday in the court with Clarence R. Yale of Bradford and his son, Clarence J., as defendants. The father and son are charged with cheating by fraudulent pretenses arising out of alleged fraudulent automobile sales.

One more case is expected to be tried at this term of court. Ralph Commisso, of Eldred will be tried following the Yale case. Commisso is charged with resisting arrest. He was found guilty at the last term of court, but a petition for mistrial was granted as the result of jurors changing their mind after rendering a verdict to the court.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In "Moment of Truth" we have finally seen a television drama that had something to say, that said it without condescension, and that brought together a superlative cast in a fascinating production.

The drama, written and staged by Peter Ustinov on Omnibus (NBC-TV), also starred Ustinov as a senile, once great general of an unnamed nation who became the unwitting figurehead of his nation's conquering enemy. As that tragic marshal, Ustinov gave as compelling a performance as he did in "The Life of Samuel Johnson" on Omnibus a few weeks ago.

No one who saw "Moment of Truth" could fail to compare the basic situation of the play to the defeat of Marshal Petain in the defeat and liberation of France in World War II. Neither could one ignore the shadow of Shakespeare's "King Lear."

But Ustinov was not writing an historical drama. To me his theme basically concerned power and the ironies involved in its fleeting transience. It's a theme that has created some fine dramas ever since Shakespeare first used it. With precision, and without diffusion, the drama said to me in effect: "If you are great and powerful, beware of outliving your greatness and power lest your enemies become your friends and your friends your enemies; for the desire for power destroys all in the end."

The theme enabled the small screen of television to become a broad field for tragedy and humor, for irony and passion. You need not have viewed "Moment of Truth" as pedantically as I perhaps am discussing it here to have enjoyed it thoroughly. Its characterizations of and comments on people and politics were memorable.

As the worldly-wise Prime Minister, Jason Robards Jr. gave an outstanding performance.

Rosemary Harris, was splendid as the Marshal's daughter. Ustinov did not simply write a vehicle for himself; each member of the cast vied for one's attention: Fritz Weaver as the Photographer; Nancy Wickwire as the Marshal's nurse; David King-Wood as the General; Karel Stepanek as the Victor; and Wood Romoff as the Foreign Minister.

Sylvania Changes Title of Its Radio and TV Division

BATAVIA, N. Y.—Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has announced a change in the title of its Radio and Television Division "to describe more effectively the division's present activities and to allow for future expansion into other product lines."

Marion E. Pettigrew, senior vice president of the company, said the division henceforth will be known as Sylvania Home Electronics, a division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. Mr. Pettigrew will continue to have overall responsibility for the division.

The division, with headquarters here, currently manufactures and markets a full line of black and white and color television sets; home and portable radios; high fidelity phonograph instruments, and tape recorders.

Mr. Pettigrew said the change was made in line with Sylvania's recently announced increased emphasis on its long-established policy of decentralization of managerial authority and accountability.

Reviewing 1957, the Sylvania executive said the division "firmly strengthened its distribution system in established product lines and is in an ideal position to take advantage of the opportunities in related product fields made possible by the increased use of electronic products in the home."

He said 1957 was the division's "greatest sales year to date," with television unit sales nearly double 1956. The division will continue to place its major effort in the television field and anticipates bettering its 1957 sales record by 15 per cent, Mr. Pettigrew stated.

Sylvania's high fidelity phonograph effort in 1958, he stated, should result in sales "two and one-half times greater than any previous calendar year." Mr. Pettigrew reported that $250,000 has already been earmarked for radio tooling in 1958, much of it for transistorized models.

The Sylvania official described the division's manufacturing facilities as "among the finest and most modern in the electronics industry, combining the best features of automatic, semi-automatic, and hand assembly methods."

Tennessee Trooper Sets Too Fast a Pace

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. Pay Gardner said a state trooper driving Lord Hailsham, head of Britain's Conservative party, in Gov. Frank Clement's car stopped her and lectured her for speeding.

But she said she was only keeping up with the trooper, who was setting a 60 m.p.h. pace through 30 and 40 m.p.h. speed zones.

"He doesn't have any right to drive any faster than I do," said Mrs. Gardner.

The trooper, who did not give Mrs. Gardner a ticket, said he stopped her "to keep her from killing herself."

Delaware Troops to Mend Fences Damaged in Rescue

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Delaware National Guardsmen are going to mend those fences their tanks knocked over during a snowstorm rescue—but they're not happy about it.

A squabble developed between Maryland and Delaware after four 24-ton tanks were used by the Delaware troops to rescue some Wilmington Girl Scouts marooned by a storm at Grove Point, Md., 12 miles southwest of Cecilton, last Tuesday night.

Four residents in the area complained the guardsmen had driven cross country rather than follow roadways, knocking down their fences.

Some interstate rancor developed with the guardsmen charging pettiness.

Maj. Gen. Joseph J. Scannell, Delaware's adjutant general, said "You rescue a drowning man, then catch hell for not getting his hat."

But Scannell ordered guard units to return and mend the fences.

How many fences? "Several," said the general. "Maybe about $24 in damages."

Oklahoma Woman Finds Gold Glowing in Garden

COLBERT, Okla. (AP)—Bryan County Sheriff Rance Arnold said an elderly Negro woman found an undetermined amount of cash in her garden and mailed it to Cleveland for a relative to exchange for currency in good condition.

He said Mrs. Nancy Giles, 79, told him she unearthed an iron box containing the money last August and mailed it to her daughter-in-law, Osie Johnson in September.

Mrs. Johnson told federal authorities in Cleveland when she turned in the money Tuesday that she delayed exchanging it so long because she had been ill.

Arnold said Mrs. Giles, who alone in her four-room home here, told him she didn't count the money because it was so rotten. Postal authorities in Cleveland said it was good enough, however, for exchange.

Services will be held at Garland Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Willing Workers will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams March 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ellis, of Newton, have been visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams.

Harold McConnell was home from Randolph over the weekend and attended a Masonic dinner at Tidoute.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Cosmetic surgery today has become a booming branch of medicine—and three out of four patients are women.

"That is because women in our culture are expected to be beautiful," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, a specialist in the field, "whereas men are expected only to be talented and good providers."

Dr. Franklyn estimated there are 250,000 plastic (or cosmetic) surgery operations a year in the United States. He breaks them down as follows:

Nose operations—70 per cent.
Face lifting—15 per cent.
Breast operations—20 per cent.
Others—5 per cent.

But the amazing development to Dr. Franklyn is the "bust boom" created by women who now look to surgeons to provide them with the fuller bosom nature denied them.

"In another few years, if our present bosom culture continues," he remarked, "breast operations will make up 50 per cent of all cosmetic surgery."

"Formerly, the objective in this type of operation was a reduction in the size of the bosom. Now 99 per cent of the women want a larger bosom."

"This comes about because of a change in beauty goals. The old skinny, flat silhouette of the high-fashion model is out. The goal of womanly beauty today is a round, curvy, healthy look."

Cosmetic surgery has been immensely speeded in the last decade.

"A woman can now get a new breast in 15 minutes," said Dr. Franklyn, "a new nose in 10 minutes, or a face lift in 30 minutes. These no longer are hospital operations. They are beauty parlor surgery."

The doctor, husband of actress Vanessa Brown, has operated on many film stars, but this type of surgery today is gone in for by the masses.

"The typical female now is a 24-year-old housewife who is flat chested and has some marital difficulties," he said. "She feels that if she had a fuller bosom she could win back her husband—and it often does. She feels more adequate. Often these things are mainly psychological."

"We have found, for example, that salesmen averaged $1,300 a year more the year after facial surgery to correct some physical defect—bags under the eyes, protruding ears, receding chins—that impaired their self-confidence."

Although Dr. Franklyn advocates cosmetic surgery for the correction of major physical defects, he is annoyed by those who seek it out of minor vanity.

"Some girls want an operation merely to give them dimples," he complained, "and now and then a man shows up asking if, please, can he have a cleft in his chin like Cary Grant."

"But I don't believe in gold-plating a life!"

LONG HEARTS CANCEL LOSER

BY OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

East's 5-club bid was a calculated risk. He knew he would be getting badly at that contract but hoped against hope that instead of doubling him the opponents would go on to five spades and that maybe five spades could be beaten.

Ira Rubin of New York who sat South doubled. Ira did not want to try for five spades and was satisfied with the sure profit at five clubs. It would have been 700 points by the way.

North wanted the rubber and bid the five spades anyway and East's bid had worked out all right.

A club opening, diamond shift and club return would have left Ira no play for his contract but East chose to win the king of clubs and continue with the ace. This gave Ira a chance to make his five spades and he proceeded to take advantage of it.

Ira decided that East's bidding and play indicated that he was void of spades. Hence, there was a sure spade loser and Ira had to find some way to get rid of his queen of diamonds. The fourth heart offered a place. A heart was led from dummy and the ten finessed. A spade was led and dummy's eight finessed. The king of spades was cashed and Ira returned to his hand with the king of hearts.

He laid down the ace of spades and led a heart to dummy's ace. The queen dropped and Ira was able to get rid of his diamond on the last heart.

INDIANS DEMAND BILLIONS

The Indians are fighting the white man again with a tangle of legal claims over old hunting grounds which may total ten billion dollars. In the few cases already settled, the red men have collected more than $35,000,000. Hundreds of suits are pending.

In an article by Blake Clark, the March Reader's Digest appearing tomorrow reports one tribe is demanding Manhattan Island back. The famous $24 transaction, they charge, was not a sale but a 99-year lease, and it has expired. Another group has drawn its bows on the whole state of California.

In the California case, the United States has tacitly admitted liability. All that remains to be argued is whether the Indians must be paid for the entire state at $1.25 an acre, or for a much smaller portion where their tribes actually lived.

Clark's article, "Must We Buy America from the Indians All Over Again?" points out that in many cases, the Indians admit the white man originally paid their ancestors. That does not matter. The Kaws, whose ancestors sold part of Kansas in 1846, recently argued that the price was too low and collected another $2,493,688.

The Miamis are claiming seven million acres in Indiana, including the city of Indianapolis; the Ottawas are demanding money for Chicago, the Creeks for Atlanta and Birmingham, the Arapahos for Denver and the Apaches for Phoenix, Arizona. Vast parts of west Tennessee and Arkansas are claimed by the Chickasaws and Quapaws; the Oto-Missouris and Chippewas have staked out Nebraska and Minnesota.

Three-fourths of the entire continent is included in one or another of the claims filed since 1946. If the Indians collect every penny they are asking, it would total $25,000 for every brave, squaw and papoose now living.

It all started, Clark reports, after Congress set up the Indian Claims Commission in 1946, to process legitimate Indian grievances with a minimum of red tape. In part of the legislation, Congress confused the Indians' social needs with America's legal obligation to them. The claims—and juicy settlements—will continue, he says, until the law is amended.

STASSEN'S POLITICAL ITCH

Few men who know Harold Stassen have imagined that during his tenure as President Eisenhower's disarmament aide he abandoned all political ambition. His determination to seek the nomination for governor in Pennsylvania simply confirms that.

If he should gain the nod and then go on to win the election, Stassen would be in a rare position, for he would then have held the governorship of two states, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

It must be noted, however, that the outlook for him in Pennsylvania is not bright. State Republican leaders voice no enthusiasm over his candidacy, even though they need a "name candidate" to recapture the Statehouse from the Democrats.

Here as in his two unsuccessful bids for the GOP presidential nomination in 1948 and 1952, Stassen encounters resistance. He started so well. He was a highly effective young governor in Minnesota from 1938 into World War II. He keynoted the 1940 GOP convention. He built an enviable war record in the Navy, and was a useful member of the U. S. delegation to the U. N. charter conference at San Francisco in 1945.

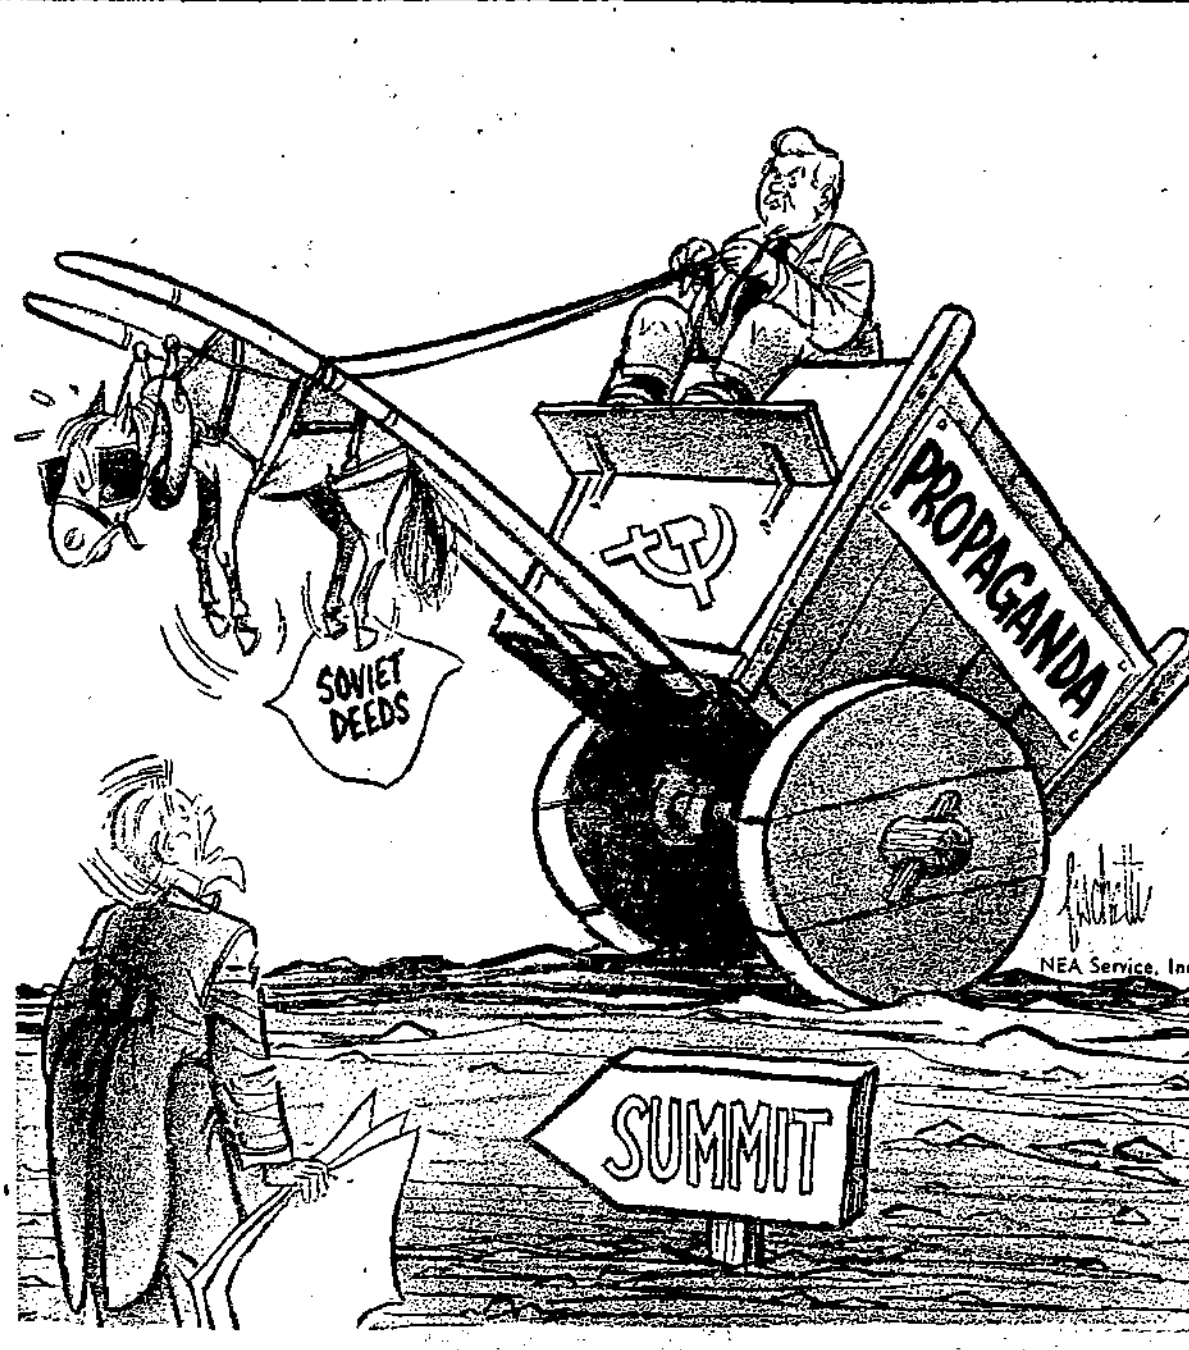

But after he became an avowed presidential bidder in 1947 something happened. He seemed to press, to try too hard to be too many things to too many people.

Judging from the reaction of top Pennsylvania Republicans, to re-enter the political lists in a big way, Harold Stassen has a tremendous job of persuasion ahead of him.

Daily Lenten Devotions

Read Matthew 6:9-15
Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. (Luke 6:37).
Jesus found men greatly in need of changed hearts. Mankind still needs a new spirit. The living Christ is trying to get men, including you and me, to follow His good way. He wants us to show a forgiving spirit in our lives. He forgives our sins. Are we willing to forgive others?
I remember a Christian policeman who had been injured in a traffic accident. A big crowd gathered. They thought that the operator of the vehicle would be severely punished. But the Christian policeman requested that he not be punished at all, saying, "I am willing to forgive him."
The crowd was astonished when they saw that the policeman forgave the offender. People said, "Really, he is a Christian." The operator was very thankful for mercy granted him and went happily away.
Jesus needs such Christians today. Let us, from this day on, have this forgiving spirit. "Ask, and it shall be given you."
PRAYER
Our Father, forgive us for not witnessing for Thee as Thou has commanded. Give us courage and strength to serve Thee faithfully. Create within us a new heart, so that we may forgive others. In the name of our Lord, Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Today I will try to forgive others that I may be forgiven.—Cissy M. Massey (India).

Here and There

Back in 1908 the "spring flood" was a little earlier than it looms this year, for it was February 15, of that year that the Warren Evening Mirror carried an article on the first page which contained this information under a heading which reads: "Annual Spring Flood Sweeps the Allegheny; Not of Sufficient Proportion to Cause Alarm in this Vicinity." The story reads: "The annual spring flood is on and this afternoon the gauge on the Suspension Bridge indicated ten and a half feet above the low water mark. The water raised about two and a half feet today, and unless there are continued rains the lowlands of Warren and vicinity will not be flooded. The weather report says snow and colder tomorrow, and it may be taken from this that the water will not reach a much higher stage. The Warren and Jamestown Street Railway Company experienced difficulty today. At Stillwater, two miles this side of Jamestown, the Conewango Creek backed up and the tracks were undermined for a distance of thirty feet. Cars have been unable to pass over the point today, and it was necessary to convey the passengers to Jamestown by vehicles, which the company supplied. It is thought the tracks will be properly supported by this evening and traffic will be resumed through to Jamestown. The first car down from Sheffield was unable to get through this morning on account of the track being flooded by an overflow at Morrison Run at a point above Rogers Mills. The ice was cleared away at eight o'clock and traffic after that hour was resumed on schedule time."

A few paragraphs pertaining to the spring weather that make interesting reading for present-day subscribers follow: "Two lads, about thirteen years of age, were arrested by the police today for snowballing on the public streets. The boys were taken before Justice Perry and were not fined. The magistrate, talked to the boys very kindly and they will probably not repeat the offense." x x x It was on Monday, February 17th, that a Mirror item under "Daily Reflections" carried this reassuring news: "The flood Saturday in Warren and vicinity did much less damage than was anticipated. Fortunately the weather turned cold Saturday evening and immediately the water in the river began to recede. The highest point reached by the Allegheny was twelve feet and four inches at six o'clock Saturday night. The Conewango Creek was well up and the Beaty Flats in the fifth ward were flooded. There was no real property damage in Warren and vicinity, although in a few instances basements and cellars were flooded and on the Island residents prepared to move from their dwellings on short notice." x x x Incidentally, it was a paragraph in the Reflections column of the issue of Friday, February 14th that gave the following news about the ice in the river—"A number of spectators watched the ice in the river going out of the river this forenoon. The Conewango creek broke loose and a channel was made through the Allegheny river ice. The river was six feet above the low water mark at 3:30 this afternoon, but there was no fear of flood in this section, unless there should be a very heavy rain." x x x Here's another item from the files of fifty years ago of interest to residents generally, "The voters of the Seventh ward were presented for their consideration as they voted Tuesday a petition for the securing of a new bridge across the Allegheny river at Main avenue. The petition is to be presented to the court and sets forth the need of another bridge across the river and asks that viewers be appointed. There is but one bridge, the Suspension bridge, which was erected in 1871. The voters signed the petition and the petition will be presented at the next term of court to be held in March. The city has three bridges over the Conewango and the need of one over the Allegheny is considered most urgent."

And finally, here's an item about the progress of the work on the Salvation Army citadel in Times Square, back in February, fifty years ago: "The Salvation Army has made practically no progress on their proposed new building in Pennsylvania avenue west on the site of the former Weaver property. The weather has been against the project and it is probable that it will be several weeks before any brick is laid. The chief of construction from the Army Headquarters in New York is still in the city and has a force of men ready to lay the walls as soon as weather permits."

THE FRENCH EMBASSY and representatives of the French wine and cognac industry here are miffed by the revelation that the President has personally agreed to have a wine cellar built in the White House and kept stocked free by the American wine industry.

"This has nothing to do with exercise," Green answered. "I'm getting ready to take a short trip to Florida, and I want to get used to the weather you're having down there before I leave."

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—To most of us today the state of the economy isn't something to be understood by the use of big words—inflation, deflation, recession, productivity.

It simply is that in spite of the talk of surpluses and easier money our paycheck doesn't stretch any farther or even as far as it did a short time back.

That may be because retail prices tend to stay high although commodity and industrial material prices have fallen. Or it may be that our income has been cut by shorter work weeks or layoffs. For those where both these things apply the going is rough.

Nor do the big words help the jobless man understand why he can't find work.

Even the experts can't agree about how the big words apply or why some of the old economic laws don't seem to function as they once did.

Inflation seems to be licked—on paper. But to the average man inflation just means high prices and he can't see that inflation is licked at all.

To the economic purist inflation means the swelling of the supply of money and credit so that there's more of it to compete for a short supply of goods. The visible result is higher prices, especially for the scarcer, more desirable goods. For months the Federal Reserve Board fought this by trying to keep the supply of money and credit from swelling.

Yet recently the demand for money and credit has decreased. Then the Federal Reserve made more of it available. The visible result was a drop in interest rates.

But retail prices didn't fall, nor did industrial output respond to easier money, nor did consumer buying. Consumers say that is because at today's prices they can't afford to buy more — many are having trouble keeping up former standards.

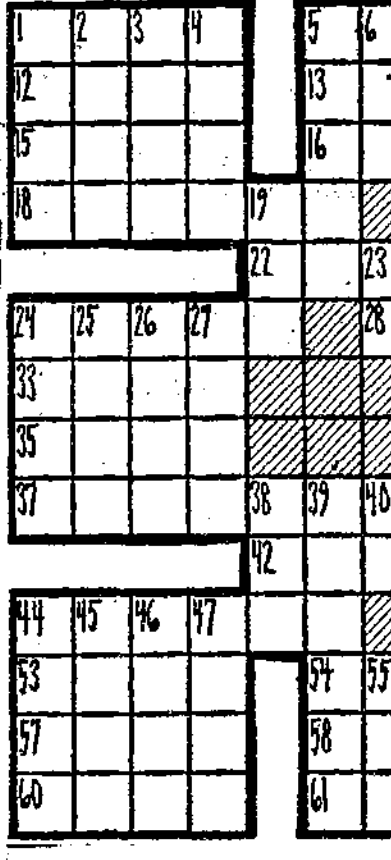

This has led some to suggest that since making it easier and cheaper for people to borrow hasn't halted the industrial recession as yet, perhaps lowering prices might give the needed boost.

And here you really get into a hassle over why prices are high and why they stay high.

The economic purists say it was monetary inflation of the war and postwar years that set the stage for the high prices we have. Their cures: cut government spending, reduce the federal debt, whittle down taxes, really tighten the money supply. In other words, classical deflation. Few people are likely to buy that—because the cure is painful. Most seem more ready to buy the status quo of a few months back.

On high retail prices the merchants, distributors and manufacturers will tell you: (1) labor costs keep on rising (2) so do freight costs; (3) consumers demand more costly conveniences and latest performance miracles of their products. Hence the pressures holding retail prices high.

Labor leaders deny that wage scales are the real cause. They dwell on the increased profits of former years. They refuse to believe that prices need be so high. They hold that cutting prices would increase demand, boost production, make more jobs, and benefit everyone.

The chairman announced appointment of her nominating committee, Mrs. Alexander C. Flick, Jr., and Mrs. Henrietta Bloom.

Mrs. Archibald then presented Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, whose topic, "What I Read Before I Went", was most interesting. The speaker used books and many lovely pictures to illustrate her travels abroad, and described many wonderful places, historical and musical, so capably that her most appreciative audience felt they, also, had taken a trip abroad.

A lovely centerpiece, belonging to Mrs. Harland Rue, graced the tea table at which Mrs. John Wendell and Miss Mary Craft presided.

"The price seems a little high"

• Yes, some prescriptions are necessarily high-priced. That's because basic ingredients are costly to produce. This is true because huge sums have had to be spent in research and on the development of new drugs. But your Doctor has a special reason for prescribing such products. He wants to hasten your recovery and thus reduce the cost of your illness. The "high-priced" specialty is often the most economical in the long run.

New Attitude, Not Money,
Will Improve Scholarship

"WHY should anyone pay you for using the brains God gave you?" my father once asked me when I showed him my report card and mentioned hopefully that some kids' fathers gave them a dollar for every A.

It struck me as a sensible question then. And it strikes me as a sensible question now, even when the suggestion that students be paid for good grades comes not from a child hoping for a hand-out from Papa but from some of the nation's leading educators. These educators think the handout ought to come from the government.

If a young person is fortunate enough to have a good mind, why in the name of common sense should his government pay him for using it?

If he needs encouragement to use his mental abilities to full capacity, there's a better way to make him take pride in the ability to learn and to think than by paying him for the effort.

PLAY UP SCHOLARSHIP
ALL we have to do to make scholarship count for more in our public schools is to start playing it up, and playing down outside activities.

What are kids working for in public high schools today? Let's face it. The girls are working toward being "class favorite," "beauty queen," "cheerleader" or "friendliest girl."

And most of the boys aren't working very hard at anything if they haven't a chance to make the football or basketball team—except, perhaps, to get a little attention for themselves by being smart alecks.

There are a few kids, of course, interested in more than just getting by scholastically. But the other kids look down on them. "He's a brain" is not a compliment in teen-age parlance. It's on a par with saying "he's a square."

But it isn't money for good grades that is going to change the teen-age social order. It's prestige. Give the scholars the kind of build-up that has been reserved for members of the football team and for beauty queens and then being a "brain" won't mean being a "square."

All Faiths Combine in World Day of Prayer

YOUNGVILLE—The annual community-wide World Day of Prayer observance was held this year in the Episcopal church of St. Francis of Assisi, with two of its women, Mrs. M. D. Rhodes and Mrs. Gordon Kay, delivering the Call to Prayer on the theme "The Bread of Life."

Mrs. Plumer Mourer, of the EUB church, led the meditation and praise, during which Mrs. Donald McKinney sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life." Mrs. Perry Hill sang as a solo the hymn "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing"; the confession was led by Mrs. H. H. Husted, and the intercession by Ardelle Johnson, both of the Methodist church.

World Day of Prayer is sponsored each year by the United Church Women, National Council of Churches, and some of the projects were presented by costumed representatives of the various mission fields as follows: India, Mrs. Robert Clark; the American Indian, Mrs. Victor Schnell; Japan, Mrs. George Anderson.

The service concluded with dedicatory prayers led by Mrs. William Sandberg, Jr. Others assisting were Mrs. R. H.

Knapp, Mrs. F. Eugene Donelson and Mrs. Clifford Abbey. The entire offering will be sent to the National Council of Churches for use in missionary work.

Jaycee Music Committee Offering "Early Bird Bonus" Memberships

Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today here will be a music series next winter provided citizens and music lovers of Warren indicate their wishes for continuation of his program by their purchases of memberships to be offered soon.

As a feature of this membership drive, Jaycees and a special citizens' committee have decided to give as a bonus to the first 200 new members free admission to Alec Templeton's concert scheduled March 11th.

This procedure is possible because only 500 memberships were sold for the 1957-58 series, and it is felt this special bonus will attract many of those who "dropped out for a year" to buy next season's memberships early.

Such early bird memberships will provide the member with admission to the usual three or four concerts which will be scheduled next year, as well as the Templeton concert, which means average cost of each concert will be well under $2. Regular price for memberships continues at $6.60.

The regular membership drive will be "kicked-off" at the Templeton concert and it is hoped that within two weeks' time a sufficient number of memberships will be sold to enable the series to continue for another season. If it appears there is not sufficient interest in the series to continue, it will be dropped and all membership money refunded. However, both Jaycees and citizens' committee members are optimistic.

The current season marks the 10th consecutive year the music series has been held in Warren under Jaycee sponsorship, and the artists so far have seemed to have been aware of this and concert-goers have been treated to one of the finest series in the history of the current program. The Alec Templeton concert promises to be a highlight of the season, and it is hoped the "early bird membership" idea will assure this fine artist of a full house.

Jaycees expected a rush for these memberships, the sale to be strictly on a first come, first served basis, limited to 200. Membership tickets are at the printers now and will be available within a few days through committee members. The names of these individuals will be announced as soon as tickets are ready. It is expected at least one downtown location will be used for the sale and convenience of those wishing to purchase memberships.

WHS Evening of Plays

The Evening of Plays scheduled Saturday, March 1, by the Warren High School Dramatics Club is described as "an experiment in educational theatre" and is more fully described in the following article prepared by the school news-writing class:

The production is part of a plan to develop a healthy, working organization for dramatics in the high school. In addition to a course in dramatics open to all interested students, this plan includes a monthly, or even twice-monthly, production in connection with Dramatics Club meetings.

These productions will be one-act plays and scenes from full-length plays, selected from the entire literature of the theatre to include works of the great playwrights of all periods in history. These productions will be student-produced and student-directed.

It is felt that this plan will enable the dramatics program in Warren High School to provide a meaningful experience to a large number of participating students and valuable training to the smaller number of students who intend to use dramatics in some direct manner after graduation.

Following this plan, the Evening of Plays is student-produced and student-directed. The faculty has managed to keep hands off, except when approached by a director or committee chairman with some specific problem. The purpose of this is to give students experience in all phases of the theatre.

Also in conjunction with the concept of educational theatre, a guest critic has been invited to comment on the performances. An informal meeting of all cast members and committees is planned for immediately after the final curtain, in order to hear the critique. The audience also will be invited to remain and hear these remarks.

Tickets are not being sold and no high-pressure advertising campaign is being conducted for the Evening of Plays. Instead members of the casts and committees have invitations which are available to anyone interested. A nominal contribution of 25 cents is asked, in order to help defray the expenses of the program.

"The Fittermouse" is a one act farce concerning the problems of Maude, a demure young lady. Maude, portrayed by Sandra Shirk, has her hands full keeping a bat out of her hair, getting hit over the head with a tennis racket, and being proposed to.

In her dilemma with the bat, Maude is assisted by her athletically inclined sister Prissie, portrayed by Carolyn Anderson, and her understanding mother Mrs. Ellis, played by Sally McCarty. Maude's fervent suitor Gerald, is impersonated by Pat Madden. The play is under the direction of Barbara Berlin with Joan Smith acting as production manager.

"The Monkey's Paw" a one-act thriller written by W. W. Jacobs, is about the disrupted life of the peaceful White family when a monkey's jinxed paw grants him three wishes. Cast members are Mr. and Mrs. White—Russell Rudolph and Beth Francis; Herbert—Steve Pearson, the Master Sergeant—Bob Knapp, and Sampson the man who brought the news will be portrayed by Frank Shacklett. A dramatic climax comes when the three desired wishes come true.

"The Dancers" by Horton Foote will be capably directed by Sandy Burke. Her cast includes, Inez, Nancy Armstrong; Horace, Dan Otterbein; Herman, Dick Sealise; Emily, Rosanna Oberg; Elizabeth, Olivia Smith; Mary Catherine, Patty O'Hara; Velma, Carla Mae Gay; Mr. Davis, Andy Larson; and Mrs. Davis, Kay Graham. ## The Mature Parent

Parents' Delight Turns First Child Into Showoff

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

At three years, Katie could take TV only in the small bits that she could chew her lamb chop. The only program she had really registered was one about animals.

One day the animal program was succeeded by a dancing one. At first it was just a vague blur of movement to Katie. Then it may have occurred to her that the movement was actually the waving arms and legs of ladies.

She must have found this discovery suggestive. For her mother was a lady and she had learned she could do some things like her mother such as drinking orange juice and wearing new dresses. Thus could have dawned on her the idea that she could dance like the TV ladies.

So alone in the living room, Katie scrambled from the sofa where she'd been sucking her thumb and joined them in their dance.

ENTERING, her mother was so entertained by the sight of Katie's dancing that she called Katie's father. In turn he called Katie's grandma. All these adults showed such enthusiasm that the inevitable happened.

The dancing that had seemed to Katie as natural as drinking orange juice became special. And because the grownups' interest in it was so much bigger and more excited than hers, it became their production instead of hers.

Katie no longer entertains herself by dancing with TV ladies, and only performs when her parents demand that she show off before guests.

When she acquires a little brother or sister, they will not treat him like this.

USUALLY, it is only our first child whom we treat like a monkey. This is because we are not sure that our first child is really a functioning human.

When he shows interest in the mechanism of his music box, we feel the same half-flattered, half-amused astonishment we feel when a TV chimpanzee smokes a cigaret. We are fascinated by the monkey's assumption of our own humanity.

This delight is made of exactly the same material as the delight felt by Katie's relatives when beholding her dance. And it is one of the reasons why the oldest child tends to be a more aggressive showoff than a younger one.

By the time we've acquired other children, we're used to the idea that we can produce humans. But the oldest child often feels obliged to prove continually that he's human by giving us special performances.

School Board to Have Johnsonburg Athletic Stadium

JOHNSONBURG — A school district official here says that the board would take over the entire burden of operation of the Johnsonburg Memorial Field rather than see it close down.

Borough officials did not include council's half of the field maintenance costs in its proposed budget published last week.

On Friday a member of the school commission declared that the field may have to be closed if funds are not made available.

Johnsonburg Memorial Field was established several years ago by the Johnsonburg Booster Club, which raised nearly $150,000 to construct stands, dressing rooms and concession facilities and lighting.

The school and the school board agreed at that time to share the maintenance costs. Councilman Lukehart said Monday that no member of council wants to see the field closed, but they are working within a very tight budget this year to reduce the borough debt.

Taking over the entire maintenance costs would increase school district expenses by about $5,000.

Councilmen promised that the budget would be revised to include the field expenses if funds were made available. Observers felt, however, that there is little likelihood of this happening.

The school officials, who asked to be identified said he is certain board members would approve the move rather than see the field closed.

The sports area is operated by a seven-man commission and financed through revenue from amusements and government contributions. A children's playground is also operated by the commission on the field site.

Plan Engineering Study For the Erie Thruway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department said today it has awarded a contract for engineering studies of a highway route to connect the Erie Thruway and the proposed Keystone Shortway.

The firm of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., was awarded the contract, not to exceed $44,000.

It calls for a study of a route to parallel present Route 19 from the proposed Sharon-Stoudsburg shortway south of Mercer, to a point on the thruway north of Middleborough — a distance of some 55 miles.

The department said the program is part of a plan to relocate Route 19 between Pittsburgh and Erie under terms of the interstate highway program.

The Baker contract requires preparation of reports and maps on two alternate locations. The contract was signed Feb. 11 and is to be completed in six months.

The thruway presently is under construction and the shortway is in preliminary study stage.

Jaycees Public Auction To Be Held Saturday

The public auction sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce, which was postponed last week will definitely be held this Saturday, March 1, beginning at 3:00 P. M. in the Beatty School cafeteria, according to Carl Mazzu, Jaycee chairman of the project.

The collection of items donated by merchants and individuals for the auction has been continuing this week and this merchandise will be moved into Beatty cafeteria on Saturday morning. Anyone interested in examining the various items before the auction begins is welcome to visit the cafeteria on Saturday morning, Mazzu said.

Mazzu also reminded all Jaycees that a work bee is scheduled for Saturday morning beginning at 9:00 p. m. at Beatty. At that time, the auction items will be arranged for display.

The Jaycee spokesman emphasized that the auction promises to be a field day for bargain hunters. Over three hundred individual items have been assembled for this project and many of them are really outstanding pieces. Since the articles will be sold to the highest bidder, it is expected that many will be sold at a fraction of their actual value.

Appliances of all kinds have been collected, according to Len Johnson who has been marshaling the collection effort. These range from a brand new $700.00 Rotobroiler to $200 waffle iron and griller. Many hand-some pieces of new furniture have been donated by the furniture stores in the community and some extremely valuable antique pieces have been given by individuals.

Dick Cook, Jaycee president, repeated that all money realized from the auction will be used to finance Jaycee civic projects for the balance of the year.

Mirrored in Our Times

It would seem that there are numerous citizens bent on suicide—quite a percentage of them are pedestrians. We have noted (behind the wheel), too many ladies (and children with them), crossing main streets from behind parked cars in the middle of blocks. We have also witnessed men and women scuttling from corner to corner against traffic lights—and looking put out with motorists who have the right of way. In the public school system, boys and girls are taught traffic safety—abroad—they witness too many violations! Why not watch your step?

Greeting cards (with considerable historical background) have observed a new approach. The sticky and sweet verses still appeal, but—a more modern trend has taken over hilariously!

For every event, there's a greeting card that refrains from the "mush and slush"—a greeting card that extends remarks destined to appeal to the special sense of humor! Designed for every occasion, the "studio card" provides more fun for everyone. In many circles, there's a definite challenge—"who will send the most unique card?"—some, whose choice is really outstanding, will sign same in pencil (enabling the receiver to use it again when the occasion arises). Some folks select such cards out-of-town (because they're well-acquainted with the really "gone" items). We are among those who collect such cards—among those who haunt shelves; read verses; and adore those greeting cards that smack of the ridiculous.

Looking for the last word in greeting cards?—those utterly delightful keepsakes — the "studio cards"? The Warren Drug Store now features 24 of the funniest and most appropriate cards you've ever seen or sent! For every occasion and every event — skip the mushy sentiment—be modern and see this unique collection.

How often we read columns by experts who deal with human relations. We note individuals new to a community—folks who seek to become better acquainted. To become known and accepted is not an easy task—some do—others don't. Those who do (being wise) become affiliated with local groups—The Woman's Club; Players Club; churches; The Newcomers Club, etc. Warren boasts many new men and women—do you know them? You should, because a great majority of our newcomers are vitally important to our future. Crave! out of that shell—take note of those folks whose fathers and mothers weren't born Warrenites. Until you do—you've missed something!

Ah-men! — they're not concerned personally with the "sack look" (although their charming wiles may be)—Ah-men—they're actually more concerned with their own appearance. Small wonder—men, today, must face the fact that they owe it to themselves to appear well-dressed at all times. Lucky men—(no chemise look for them)—just casual, completely comfortable! Sure, menswear has undergone a few changes (all of them happy)—but for the most part, it's not too drastic. Ah-men—if your present wardrobe looks somewhat strained—it's time to stop—

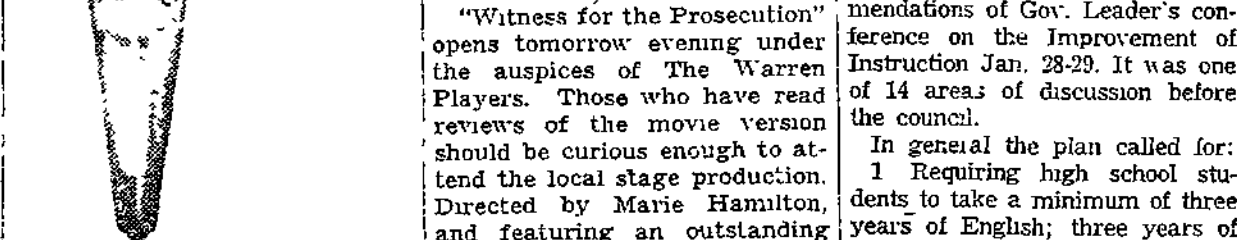

At The Style Shop—where (no matter what the current trend)—the "best in menswear" is featured. When your style-conscious wife shops for YOU—she depends on The Style Shop! When you determine your own wardrobe needs, you head for The Style Shop because you know that they cater to your good taste.

"Witness for the Prosecution" opens tomorrow evening under the auspices of The Warren Players. Those who have read reviews of the movie version should be curious enough to attend the local stage production. Directed by Marie Hamilton, and featuring an outstanding cast, this Player's Club play should surpass all previous box office records. How could you possibly miss it?

During this Lenten season—attend your church regularly. Should you be among those who have no special religious affiliation, feel free to attend whatever church that may appeal to you personally.

State Council of Education Has Four-Point Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Council of Education today began study of a four-point plan to tighten Pennsylvania school requirements to meet the challenges of the space age.

The proposal followed recommendations of Gov. Leader's conference on the Improvement of Instruction Jan. 28-29. It was one of 14 areas of discussion before the council.

In general the plan called for: 1. Requiring high school students to take a minimum of three years of English; three years of social sciences; one year of science, and one year of mathematics.

2. Teaching of science to all pupils, starting in kindergarten.

3. Establishing seventh and eighth grade reading classes.

4. Accelerating the work of abler junior high school students.

Gov. Leader yesterday urged the council to give the proposals "the utmost consideration."

Dragons to Meet Bulldogs In Important Game Friday

When the Meadville Bulldogs take to the Beatty hardwood on Friday night, they will be attempting to extend their mastery over the Warren Dragons which has gone on for the past seven years. On the other hand the Blue and White cagers will strive to preserve their unbeaten record at home and to smash the Meadville jinx.

It was two years ago that the Dragons had the Bulldogs on the ropes with less than two minutes to go when a bad pass opened the door for a Meadville victory. Five seasons have passed since the locals lost two one point games to the Joy-men. These losses were hard to take and the present edition of the Dragons are eager to avenge them.

With the Moms and Dads seated in a reserved section, and a capacity crowd assured to watch the last game of the current season, the hoopsters bearing the banner of the Dragons are determined to annex their 15th victory of what has been a highly successful season. Parts of the boys on the Varsity squad are to be honored by the Lettermen Club. The Mothers, who sacrifice as much as the athletes do, will be presented with a corsage and escorted to a seat of honor along with the Fathers.

The Warren High School Physical Education department will put on a trampoline exhibition between the prelim and varsity games.

For many fans who have enjoyed the exciting brand of ball played by the Dragons this year, it will be the last opportunity to watch the colorful Jack Karkosky, Nick Monroe and Bob Yerg perform under the colors of the Blue and White. The above cagers are Seniors and will be playing in their last scholastic game.

Police Protection Is Given Fighters in Tonight's Bout

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown, an old pro and a navy veteran of seven Pacific invasions, wasn't too perturbed today as large forces of police guarded the spanking new two-million-dollar Sports Palace where he fights Cuba's Orlando Echevarria tonight.

Brown, unbeaten in his last 15 fights, was a 5-1 choice to beat the Cuban lightweight ruler in a non-title 10-rounder.

The fight will be telecast via special facilities into the United States for the weekly Wednesday night TV hookup (ABC, 10 p.m., EST). It will be the first live sporting event to be televised from overseas into the U.S.

This will be Echevarria's first TV shot. The 27-year-old southpaw is a fairly good fighter with a 47-19-4 record, including 30 knockouts. Brown has a 68-14-9 record. He also has scored 30 kayos.

Cuba uses the 10-point must scoring system. The winner of each round gets 10 points and the loser nine or less.

"I haven't received any threats and I don't expect any," said the 32-year-old champion from New Orleans.

Kansas State and 'Frisco Sitting Pretty in Tourney

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Kansas State and San Francisco were sitting pretty in NCAA major college tournament seats today while Southern Methodist has upset the dope by gaining the inside track in a bid for a fourth consecutive Southwest Conference basketball crown.

On top of all that, Virginia made the already confused Atlantic Coast Conference battle even tougher to figure by upsetting Duke, which had won 11 straight, 70-68 in triple overtime last night.

Kansas State gained its fourth Big Eight title and NCAA berth by whipping Oklahoma 68-51. The Wildcats, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, now have won 10 in a row for a 19-1 record.

San Francisco, No. 4, didn't have it so easy while building a 22-1 record with a 49-47 decision over St. Mary's (Calif.) that clinched the West Coast Athletic Conference championship and handed the Dons a ticket to their fourth consecutive NCAA shindig.

St. Bonaventure and St. John's (N.Y.), both headed to the National Invitation Tournament, padded their records, while Holy Cross, passed over thus far by selection committees, upset NCAA-bound Connecticut 92-89 in double overtime. New Orleans Loyola, named to the NCAA field yesterday, whipped Memphis State 68-55.

SMU, crossed off as a South-west power with the graduation of big Jim Drehs, took the undisputed lead with an expected 89-73 victory over Texas while Texas A&M was upsetting Texas Tech 79-63. SMU, now 8-4, hit 22 of 39 field goal attempts while building a 50-40 lead at the half. Rick Herscher led the Mustangs with 28 points.

Texas Tech, outscored 17-3 in the last 7:44 after blowing a 13-point lead on its home court, now is 7-5 and tied for second with Rice and Arkansas. All four contenders have two games left.

Maxie Kosof World Endurance Bowling Classic is in need of 2,000 bowlers to participate in the tournament at Ogden, Utah, June 28 to August 4. The new liberalized Kosof handicap system will make it possible for almost any good bowler to win top prize. This computes the handicap at two-thirds against 220. Another innovation is the start of an Endurance five-man team event in which twenty games are rolled, ten each on consecutive days. Third innovation is the $5,000 added money Kosof posted as a result of a dare by Buzz Fazio. Fazio set a new scratch record of 213 for forty games in 1957, and then "dared" Kosof to post the added money for an average of 225, or better. Women are also eligible to participate in the tournament.

Yardley Is Threatening to Beat George Mikan's Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beating many of George Mikan's pro basketball records is no mean task. But the way Detroit's George Yardley is closing in on perhaps the big guy's greatest, it seems like a cinch.

After firing in 44 points in his latest effort, the baldheaded shot of the Pistons is within 124 points of Mikan's season National Basketball Assn. scoring record of 1,932 points set in 1950-51. And Yardley has six games in which to pick up those 125 points, needing an average of about 21 a game to do it.

The 6-8 master was in the pink last night at New York's Madison Square Garden with a scoring display that not only moved him a giant step toward the record but produced an exciting 114-113 comeback overtime victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

With 38 points already in his private bag, Yardley hit a 30-foot desperation hook shot at the buzzer that sent the game into the extra period. Then, his jump shot and driving, twisting layup were the key field goals in the overtime.

He got a standing ovation from the Garden crowd of 13,120. Left so hmp by the spectacular finish that they hardly let out a peep as Philadelphia swamped New York 132-110 in the second game.

Good Hitters Take a Chance --Except Ted, of Course

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla.—(NEA)—Ted Williams will go into the Hall of Fame as the greatest hitter of this or any other generation, but contemporary clouters disagree with his strict adherence to the strike zone—especially with men on base in a tight game.

Among the dissenters is Stan Musial, who last season won his seventh National League batting championship at 37 while Williams was bagging his fifth American League title at 39.

Williams contends that a batter, regardless of the situation and his capability, should never swing at a pitch that is out of the strike zone, the 17-inch wide area extending from the knees to the armpits.

"SUPPOSE A HITTER DEVELOPS the habit of swinging at balls that are only two inches above, below, outside or inside his normal strike zone," the Boston Bomber always has said. "Instead of having a target of four-and-a-quarter square feet, as in my case, the pitcher has a target measuring five-and-five-sixths square feet, an increase of 37 per cent."

"Give any major league pitcher an advantage like that and he'll make a monkey out of you most of the time."

Williams reiterated this to me while waiting to give a casting exhibition on a pier back of a Miami department store. The big fellow is as expert with rod and reel as he is with a bat.

"No one can build a case for the bad ball hitter," he insisted.

Musial concedes that there is a lot of logic in Williams' position and you most certainly cannot argue with his averages.

"BUT THE BIG HITTER is up there to drive in runs," said Stan the Man, whom we caught between planes enroute to Jamaica for a brief vacation before reporting to the Cardinals in St. Petersburg.

"If I like a pitch, I'm going to hit the ball no matter where it is. I figure that I'm better than the pitcher and I don't like bases on balls. I adjust my hitting to the park. I pulled inside pitches at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field, for example, and I probably will do the same thing in the Los Angeles Coliseum."

"Joe Medwick was a notorious bad ball hitter when he led the National League in every department. Yogi Berra is a little more particular about the strike zone now, but he went after bad balls when he became the most dangerous late inning hitter in the American League."

Henry Aaron hurt the Yankees in the World Series by smacking a pitch in Milwaukee that appeared to be even with the top of his head. Asked about it after the game, he explained, "The ball was where I could hit it. I might not have been so lucky with a breaking pitch in the strike zone."

JOE DIMAGGIO WASN'T TOO concerned about the strike zone when he could win a game for the Yankees with a base hit.

It goes without saying that there is a tremendous difference between the batter who hits bad balls and one who swings at them thinking they're good.

Jim Hegan and other veteran American League catchers can't recall Williams ever swinging at a bad pitch. This is a tribute to one of the all-time batting eyes and appraisers of the strike zone.

But the fact remains that Williams too frequently and apparently happily settles for a base on balls when the situation cries for an authoritative thump by the Red Sox' big hitter.

That leaves the ruse-batted-in business to an inferior hitter, for compared with old T.S. all but a handful of hitters are inferior. This well could be a principal reason why the Red Sox have won just one pennant in the 14 full seasons Ted Williams has been asked to carry the load.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Stan Mosel of Essex Fells, N.J., shot a two-under-par 70 to take medalist honors in the qualifying round of $15,000 Baton Rouge Open.

RACING
MIAMI—First Fair ($680) took the lead at the head of the stretch and held off the field to win the $5,000 Opa-Locka Purse at Hialeah.

ARCADIA, Calif. — Penumbra ($34.90) won the $23,350 Santa Susana Stakes at Santa Anita and Silky Sullivan captured the $6,000 Three Ring Ranch Purse in his final tune-up for the Santa Anita Derby.

GROVERS EDGE KNIGHTS
FRANKLIN—Staving a last quarter rally by Franklin in the nick of time, Grove City Tuesday night posted its fourth win of the cage season by a 47-45 count. Behind by four points going into the second period, Grove City outscored the losers by six and widened the gap by four more points in the third quarter. Franklin had the better of it in the finale, but just fell short. Bob Worley led the Grovers with 14 points supported by Ken McWilliams with 13. Ted Smith tallied 14, Bob Lynch 12 and Lou Fogle but couldn't prevent the Knights from skidding to their 15th loss in 20 games.

Rowland Scores 35 Points To Top Northern Area Win

SUGAR GROVE — Bud Rowland went on a 35-point rampage Tuesday night while leading Northern Area to a lopsided 98-43 decision over Tidioute in an Upper Allegheny Valley contest.

Rowland meshed 17 fielders and one charity for his big total that paced the Area five to its sixth league conquest in nine starts. The loss was cellar-dwelling Tidioute's ninth in 10 games.

Pumping in a steady stream of baskets from underneath, Rowland meshed 15 points to get Northern Area off to a 9-8 first quarter. He dumped in 12 more in Area's 26-point third period that paved the way for an onslaught of Area reserves.

In all, 10 Area players scored. Dick Morrison's 24 points headed Tidioute backed up by Connie Fuelhart's 13.

"Peyton Place" Author Divorces Her Husband

Judge J. B. Hicks granted the divorce yesterday to Grace Metalious, 33, in Russell County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Metalious testified that her husband, George, 33, voluntarily abandoned her on Oct. 14, 1956. They were married in 1943. Metalious was listed as a resident of Massachusetts.

The judge barred remarriage except to each other for 60 days. No mention was made of property settlement, money or the three Metalious children, Marshall, 14, Christopher Michael, 10, and Cynthia, 7.

Hearings on Violence At Strike Are Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) today ordered immediate public hearings by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee on violence in the four-year-old Kohler strike.

CHURCHILL RECOVERED

They said no further medical bulletins would be issued, indicating Churchill has recovered from the week-old attack of pneumonia and pleurisy.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT—A series of coincidences make the two smiling ladies above candidates for a write-up in Ripley's column. Guests of honor at a recently held birthday party, they revealed they not only shared the same date, they were also the same age. They are apparently amused because they share something else—a secret—they wouldn't say exactly how many years they had rolled up behind them, but our guess is, it's 29. a most important ingredient in battling the recession.

DISABILITY—Eisenhower said he and Vice President Nixon have a very clear understanding as to what Nixon's role should be if Eisenhower should become disabled.

Eisenhower repeated that he thinks there should be a constitutional amendment. The House Democratic leadership thinks the matter can be handled by simple legislation.

So far as his own case is concerned, Eisenhower said, there is such a clear understanding between Nixon and himself, and with certain others, that it is unconceivable there would be any misunderstanding regarding Nixon's role.

Eisenhower spoke of the relationship between him and Nixon as one of trust and perhaps unique.

HEALTH—Told a weekly news magazine—Time—says in its latest issue that Eisenhower has been forced to reduce his work load by up to 25 per cent as a consequence of his three major illnesses, Eisenhower smiled and said he wishes he could cut it by that much. But he added he doesn't think it has been reduced to that extent.

MACK—Eisenhower was asked whether he thinks Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack should resign or be fired. He said he had no judgment on the matter at this time.

Eisenhower said the evidence in the House inquiry on the FCC is in the process of being concentrated. He noted that Atty. Gen. Rogers, who has ordered an FBI investigation, is watching the matter to determine whether anything more should be done.

Other subjects discussed during the conference included physical examinations during which the President said he will have to check up on it; Natural Gas; Extension of Reciprocal Trade Act; Disarmament; Former President Truman, and latest letter to Premier Bulganin.

Mrs. Luraas said she had been unable to get in touch with Farrell for two years but recently saw his picture in newspapers and on television.

Farrell readily admitted the facts of his marriage, the Daily News reported, but said he had not realized that he was supposed to continue support payments for Heidi after his former wife remarried.

tee's ousted counsel Bernard Schwartz testified Mack had accepted money from Whiteside and pledged his vote to Public Service Television, Inc., a National Airlines subsidiary which got the contested Miami TV license. Schwartz said Whiteside represented Public Service.

Whiteside, who has heatedly denied the Schwartz charges, elaborated yesterday on the one-sixth interest he said he gave Mack in Miami's Stembler-Shelden insurance agency, a firm doing business with the Channel 10 winner.

Whiteside testified earlier Mack had received almost $10,000 from the insurance interest from 1953 through 1956 without a cent of cost to Mack. Asked if the transfer was made to Mack "just out of friendship," Whiteside replied: "Of that you may rest assured."

Discussing possible violations, Harris said Mack's interest in the insurance firm "is a violation of the communications act" of 1934. And the chairman noted emphatically that the penalty for violating the act is $10,000 fine or a year in prison.

Allegheny Airlines to Discontinue 3 Points

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allegheny Airlines in seeking permission to discontinue service at three of its points, has told the Civil Aeronautics Board the volume of traffic at the locations does not warrant continued service.

The three points—each on a different segment—are Cumberland, Easton-Cambridge, Md., and Lock Haven, Pa.

After the airlines filed three petitions yesterday, CAB officials said cities and other interested parties will be given a chance to reply. Usually no hearings are held on such petitions.

Treatment of Korean Boy Draws Criticism

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A 13-year-old Korean boy caught stealing at a U. S. Army base was put in a wooden packing box and flown 25 miles before being released apparently unharmed, the Army said today.

Gen. George H. Decker, commander of U. S. forces in Korea, said he "regretted the treatment." The incident yesterday was being investigated "and appropriate action will be taken," the Army said.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices recovered in early trading today after five days on the downside.

Key issues gained fractions to around a point. The higher tone was established in a moderately active opening, then turnover slowed.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, oils and chemicals went ahead. Mail orders, rubbers and radio-televsions were mixed.

The action was a follow-through from late yesterday's selective recovery which led brokers to theorize that the list had reached a temporarily oversold condition. In the absence of any radical change in the business and economic climate it looked like a technical recovery.

Dulles Opens Drive for A New Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles opened the drive in Congress for new foreign aid today by denouncing arguments that the controversial overseas program is a "giveaway."

"But there would have been and there would be a 'giveaway' if we did not have it," Dulles said.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW (AP News Analyst)

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an A-B-C on President Eisenhower's foreign aid program. He has asked Congress for $3,942,000,000 for another year. It faces a tough fight.

Eisenhower's program is a continuation of the one started by former President Truman. Since the war the total cost of foreign aid — of all kinds — has been 60 billion dollars. The end is not in sight.

The President has asked $2,635,000,000 for military aid and related expenses of defense support and $1,307,000,000 mainly for economic aid. That economic aid falls into two classes: loans that will be repaid and grants, or outright gifts.

The aid program began to assume its present form, but in a very limited way, back on March 12, 1947, when Truman asked Congress for 400 million dollars in both military and economic help to Greece and Turkey. He got it.

Greece at the time was threatened from within by Communist guerrillas; Turkey was being pressured from the outside by its next-door neighbor, the Soviet Union.

Later in 1947 the Truman administration — through Secretary of State Marshall — proposed a big economic aid program for Western Europe which was still flat on its back from World War II. This program got started in 1948.

Still later, as the result of Communist pressures or aggressions around the world, this country began making military alliances with individual countries and groups of countries.

This meant military help from this country in various forms: weapons, instructors to teach the use of them; supplies, services; and even direct money to help smaller countries pay for their armies set up as part of the alliance.

On the military assistance in its various forms the Truman and Eisenhower administrations reason this way:

It's cheap at the price. These alliances form a protective wall against the Soviet Union. They have far more men than we could afford to put in uniform on a permanent basis if our allies weren't there; and, besides, by ourselves we couldn't police the world. The armed allies do the policing.

In addition: by being our allies, they stay out of the Soviet camp and get a chance to develop by themselves.

The economic aid not only includes loans, to countries which feel able to repay, but grants or gifts to those which can't repay, and also technical assistance.

This country sends technical experts to backward countries to help them come abreast of the times through various forms of development: farming, education, health, mining, industry, transportation, and even by training administrators.

The biggest chunk of the military aid will go to countries of the Far East.

Educator Says Slow Learners Forgotten Fifth

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Slow learners are the forgotten fifth of America's students and deserve a better break, a Minnesota educator said today.

All too often, said R. A. Tieg of Robbinsdale, Minn., the slow learners are merely tolerated and permitted to fail. They drop out of school after becoming convinced through repeated failure that they are of little consequence.

And yet, Tieg told the convention of the American Assn. of School Administrators, these are young people who will "do their share of the work of the world. They will cast their votes, they will participate in the activities of labor unions and farm organizations. They will make homes."

Tieg said about 18 of every 100 school-age children are slow learners, with IQs of about 75 to 89. This does not include the two children in every 100 so mentally retarded that special education is required for them.

Many of the slow learners reveal unexpected aptitudes when given the proper opportunities, Tieg said.

"Americans cannot afford waste in education," he said. The slow learners must be identified as early as possible, he said, and special classes must be set up to give them the education they need.

Film of General Interest Will Be Shown March 2nd

According to a news release from the Warren Education Association, the Pennsylvania State Education Association is very happy to announce the scheduling of the National Education Association's television film, "Satellites, Schools, and Survival," on Pennsylvania stations of the NBC-TV network, Sunday, March 2. Channel 6, Johnstown will carry the film at 3:00 Sunday afternoon, and Channel 12, Erie, will present it a half hour later at 3:30.

Charles Van Doren, noted educator at Columbia University, will moderate the program. He will also interview such outstanding personalities as H. Rowan Gaither, Ford Foundation chairman, James R. Killian, assistant to President Eisenhower, William G. Carr, Executive Secretary of NEA, Richard M. Nixon, Vice President, and Senate Majority Leader, Lyndon B. Johnson.

Van Doren will narrate a pictorial drama of world affairs since 1900 and their effect on education. A segment of the science teaching program in a junior high school will also be shown.

This presentation is being sponsored by the NEA in cooperation with the PSEA. The program, which will serve as the NEA film of the year, is designed to present a positive viewpoint on teaching and the education profession.

The film has been offered to all affiliates of the NBC network for viewing Saturday or Sunday, March 1 or March 2.

All six NBC affiliates in Pennsylvania have agreed to carry the program on March 2.

Suggestion for Making Out Your Income Tax Form

The Pittsburgh District of the Internal Revenue Service has issued a statement advising taxpayers to avoid stapling or pinning checks and other documents to the short, card-form 1040-A tax return.

John H. Bingle, Director of the 24-county Pittsburgh District, said that these short form returns are now machine processed and any perforation caused by stapling or pinning "confuses the machines and necessitates individual hand-processing in many instances and consequently results in unnecessary delay. I'm sure this advice is particularly interesting to those taxpayers expecting refunds," Mr. Bingle said.

"Bills for additional tax due, both income and estimated tax, will also, in many instances, be on card forms. Checks in payment of the tax should not be stapled or pinned to these cards either, for the same reason," added Mr. Bingle.

"Machine processing of tax return has been initiated as a method of furnishing speedier services to the public at less cost to the Government. Public cooperation, to a great extent, is necessary for its success."
